

To: School Leaders, English Curriculum Leaders, AP Coordinators, School Counselors, and District Administrators

From: Renata Elvey, Senior Director, Advanced Placement Program

Date: March 3, 2025

RE: AP Seminar Is Approved as English 10

Most states now recognize AP Seminar for high school English 10 credit.

| | | |
|-------------|---------------|---------------|
| Alabama | Kentucky | Ohio |
| Alaska | Maryland | Oregon |
| Arizona | Massachusetts | Pennsylvania |
| Arkansas | Michigan | Rhode Island |
| California | Minnesota | South Dakota |
| Colorado | Mississippi | Utah |
| Connecticut | Missouri | Vermont |
| Delaware | Montana | Virginia |
| Georgia | Nebraska | Washington |
| Hawaii | Nevada | West Virginia |
| Idaho | New Hampshire | Wisconsin |
| Illinois | New Jersey | Wyoming |
| Indiana | New Mexico | |
| Iowa | New York | |
| Kansas | North Dakota | |

Tennessee allows AP Seminar to fulfill English 11 or English 12 credit only. Texas districts interested in exploring an alternative path for offering AP Seminar to fulfill English II credit can learn more in this case study. For inquiries about AP Seminar in Texas, please contact Lana Sveda at lsveda@collegeboard.org.

Hear directly from English teachers about their experience teaching AP Seminar as English 10.

- To request a crosswalk of AP Seminar with your state's English Language Arts standards, schedule a 1:1 chat with a content expert.
- To learn more about offering this course, visit the Explore English 10: AP Seminar web page on AP Central.

Please reach out if you have additional questions. We're happy to help.

Renata Elvey
Senior Director, Advanced Placement Program
relvey@collegeboard.org